

Weekly Report

Last Week's Goals

Our goals for this week are to complete the beta release. The front end team will work on finishing the UI and implementing calls to our backend API. The backend team will work on implementing the inventory management API calls so the Android application can call it. We will all collectively work on updating the SDS and SRS documentation to account for the changes we've made since we wrote them, and update our website with the new release.

Progress We Made This Week

Met together to discuss the beta release presentation and our goals for the week. Beta release has been completed. Finders Keepers features currently consist of inventory management on the user's profile, and saving user settings. Updated SDS, SRS, and website.

Goals

Our goals this week consists of getting completing UI and functionality for the trade requests screen and item browsing screen. We're currently preparing for the beta release presentation. We also plan on improving and creating more tests.
